INTRODUCTION

The Standards for Supervised Visitation Practice (“the Standards”) is the product of the Supervised Visitation Network (SVN) Standards Task Force (the “Task Force”), the Standards and Guideline (S & G) Committee, and public comments submitted during the 2006 Invitation-to-Comment period. The open Invitation-to-Comment period, which was held during January 6, 2006 through February 20, 2006, consisted of the solicitation of comments from the SVN membership and the general public (i.e., interested professional individuals and organizations) regarding the revised SVN Standards and Guidelines (i.e., the January 2006 draft version of the 1996 April SVN Standards and Guidelines).

The Standards are based in part on the original April 1996 SVN Standards and Guidelines. As a result of considerable modification and revisions to the April 1996 version, the Task Force and S & G Committee decided to divide the April 1996 SVN Standards and Guidelines into two separate documents: (1) Standards of Practice; and (2) Best Practice Guidelines. The Task Force and S & G Committee agreed that these two documents needed to compliment each other; however, the purposes and intent of each document would be different.

SVN Board of Directors’ Approved Review Process

The S & G Committee agreed to post the revised standards (i.e., January 2006 version) to the SVN Website, <http://www.svnetwork.net/>, and include a comment response form and instructions for submission of written comments. The comment response form requested information regarding whether the person (1) agreed with the proposed changes; (2) agreed with the proposed changes only if modified; or (3) did not agree with proposed changes. All comments were required to be submitted in writing, on the comment response form, and only comments submitted during the open comment period were reviewed and forwarded to the S & G Committee and Task Force for review and consideration.

Upon closure of the invitation-to-comment period, the S & G Committee and the Task Force convened several teleconference calls to discuss the public comments submitted and review and outline proposed task assignments. The co-chairs of the S & G Committee were responsible for collecting, synthesizing, and coordinating all of the public comments into a “comment response table” as initially agreed upon. Comments were reviewed by the SVN Standards Task Force through an in-person meeting in March 2006. These modifications were then submitted to the S & G Committee for further review, revisions, and subsequent drafting of proposed final recommendations to be presented to the board of directors for review, discussion, and consideration. The committee reached unanimous consensus on the committee responses and on the final draft of the revised standards.

The committee’s recommendations regarding the final draft of the Standards came to the Special Board of Directors Meeting, scheduled April 6, 2006, for discussion, consideration, and final approval. The Board of Directors was requested to review, revise, and approve submission of the final draft document (i.e., the May 2006 version) to the general SVN membership for adoption and ratification at the annual SVN 2006 conference held in Rapid City, South Dakota. The Standards were passed by membership vote on May 18, 2006, and became effective on July 1, 2006.

The Standards are the first document to be completed by the Task Force and S & G Committee. The Standards are designed to be mandatory in nature (i.e., evidenced by the use of the words “shall and “must”) and establish minimum practice standards of professional supervised visitation and exchange services. The central criterion of these Standards is that there must be a match between the capacity of the provider, the service being provided, and the needs of and the risk presented by the family.

Now that the Standards have been adopted, the Task Force and S & G Committee will next develop the Best Practice Guidelines. These will be permissive in nature (i.e., evidenced by the use of the words “should” and “may”) and will offer practice guidance and recommendations for implementation of the standards. The Guidelines will primarily serve as the “how to” component for implementation of the national standards. It is anticipated that the Best Practice Guidelines will be completed and/or presented to the general SVN membership for consideration in fiscal year 2008.

In developing the new Standards, the S & G Committee and the Task Force strived to remain true to the overarching goal of ensuring that the standards were consistent, as far as possible, with other state and national practice trends while also providing clarity and structure for the operation of supervised visitation and exchange services without compromising the fundamental objective of maintaining the physical, emotional, and psychological safety and protection of parents and their children. Additionally, the committee sought to meet the underlying goal of flexibility and being broad enough to allow for jurisdictional applicability and differences.

To assist SVN members and other professional practitioners in comprehending the provisions of service delivery under these Standards, it is the intent of the S & G Committee to publish a background/history document and a rationale compendium to the Standards. The background/history document is intended to describe and outline the revision and amendment process while the rationale compendium is intended to provide understanding regarding the conceptual thinking of the final draft of this document. The committee responses (i.e., the public comment chart) to all the public comments submitted during the Invitation-to-Comment period is part of the public record and is posted on the SVN Website.

The SVN Board of Directors and the S & G Committee recognize that the Standards are only the first step in guiding the practice of supervised visitation and exchange services. The need for additional resources is paramount to the successful implementation of the Standards. To this effect, the S & G Committee made a formal recommendation to the Board of Directors requesting the creation and adoption of, at least, the following minimal documents. The following recommendations were approved by the Board of Directors on May 19, 2006:

1. Develop Guidelines for Best Practice: The Standards are the minimum requirements for supervised visitation and exchange practice. It is the consensus of the S & G Committee that it will be helpful for professional supervised visitation and exchange providers to have various options for providing services. The Best Practice Guidelines will offer providers greater details on a range of alternatives for adapting to different circumstances that may be unique to their individual jurisdictions.
2. Develop a Professional Code of Ethics: The Code of Ethics is intended to serve as a guide for professional conduct regarding the practice of supervised visitation and exchange services. The ethical standards will be designed to ensure professional accountability and set forth general values and principles of conduct.
3. Develop a SVN Approved Training Curricula: Under section 12.0, a list of required subject matter topics is provided but the section needs to be supplemented with well-designed curricula and training materials that are approved by SVN as meeting the training goals set by the Standards. The S & G Committee recommended and the Board approved that the SVN Training Committee, in collaboration and coordination with the Board of Directors and S & G Committee develop training curriculum that will meet the minimum requirements of the Standards, including advanced curricula needed to reflect both updated and new practices.
4. Provide SVN Training Support: The Standards are not intended to create barriers for entry into the field of practice of supervised visitation or create obstacles that would limit the amount of service delivery offered by members. The Standards are not designed to exclude or stop provider services but to help ensure provider accountability, set minimum levels of service delivery, and ensure high-quality services provided by trained, skilled professionals. The S & G Committee proposed that the board of directors, in collaboration with the SVN Training Committee, seek to ensure that the general membership have the essential tools and support to ensure compliance and implementation of the revised standards.

The new standards do not set equivalencies or “credit” for other training and experience by providers because the absence of SVN approved curriculum does not allow an acceptable standard by which education, training, or experience can be established.

Additionally, to address the issue of how programs will meet the training requirements given budgetary costs and lack of resources, the consensus among the committee was that the standards need to be flexible enough to allow for innovative approaches and strategies in seeking and obtaining the required training. The committee acknowledged budgetary constraints that affect the entry into the field of practice and consequently the availability of affordable and accessible services. While the standards do outline the training subject areas required for supervised visitation and exchange services, the standards are not explicit regarding the methods for achieving compliance. The S & G committee proposes the following as a variety of cost-effective means for accomplishing this: on-the-job training; online resources; videos, audiotapes; written materials, publications; self-study aids; conferences; and trainings.

Furthermore, the Standards may communicate expectations that exceed those established by law or other regulatory bodies. Where conflict exists, law, rules of the court, regulatory requirements, or agency requirements supersede these standards. SVN does not currently have an enforcement mechanism. However, as a condition of membership, SVN members are asked to certify that they support the standards and if providing supervised visitation and exchange services, members intend to strive to comply with these standards. The vision and mission of SVN is to promote excellence in the field of practice. By subscribing to the Standards, members demonstrate their commitment towards providing and supporting excellence of service.

SUPERVISED VISITATION NETWORK

MISSION STATEMENT

Mission Statement

The Supervised Visitation Network (SVN) provides communities with education and support that promote opportunities for children to have safe, conflict-free access to both parents through a continuum of child access services.¹

SVN Values

The values of the Supervised Visitation Network were developed through the organizations strategic planning process and are contained in the SVN by-laws. The SVN by-laws are accessible to the public and the general membership through the SVN website located at <http://www.svnetwork.net>.

¹ The Supervised Visitation Network acknowledges that the concept of both parents may not be applicable because of dependency cases.

- 1.2 Purpose of the Standards
- 1.3 Historical Development of the SVN Standards
- 1.4 Philosophy of the Standards
- 1.5 Applicability
- 1.6 Adoption and Implementation

1.1 Supervised Visitation Network (SVN)

The objectives of the Supervised Visitation Network are to:

1. Establish a network of professionals who are committed to supervised visitation and exchange services;
2. Act as a clearinghouse for information about supervised visitation and exchange services;
3. Develop and maintain standards and guidelines for supervised visitation and exchange practices;
4. Inform practitioners about funding sources; and
5. Educate policymakers about the need for supervised visitation and exchange services.

1.2 Purpose of the Standards

This document establishes minimum practice standards for professional supervised visitation and exchange services. These standards are also intended to serve as a resource to courts, educators, funding sources, and others interested in this field of practice.

1.3 Historical Development of the SVN Standards

In 1994, SVN adopted a resolution to develop a draft document of Standards and Guidelines to be reviewed and accepted by the SVN general membership. The document was intended to serve as a best practice resource for professionals operating and administering child access/supervised visitation and exchange services. The current revision, effective July 1, 2006, is based on the original SVN Standards and Guidelines document created and approved by the general membership in April 1996. In this revised document, Standards and Guidelines have been separated out. This document sets forth mandatory minimum standards of practice. Best Practice Guidelines will be developed after the general membership approves and ratifies adoption of the Standards of Practice.

1.4 Philosophy of the Standards

Consistent with the mission and values of SVN, the general philosophy of the standards are:

1. Quality and flexibility of service

The standards are intended to be broad enough to be applicable to all supervised visitation providers operating and administering services and specific enough to ensure implementation of the core values of SVN.

2. Safety and well-being

The underlying premise of these standards is that the safety of all participants is a precondition of providing services. After safety, the well-being of the child is the paramount consideration at all stages and particularly in deciding the manner in which supervision is provided.

3. Evolving standards

The standards will be revised and updated periodically to reflect the evolving practice of supervised visitation services.

1.5 Applicability

The standards apply to SVN members who provide professional supervised visitation and exchange services. Membership in SVN explicitly implies agreement to follow the standards to the extent that they do not conflict with applicable law.

1.6 Adoption and Implementation

These standards were adopted and ratified by vote of the membership on May 19, 2006, with an effective date of July 1, 2006. SVN members agree to be in full compliance with the standards one year from the effective date of July 1, 2006.

2.0 DEFINITIONS

The following definitions clarify terms used in these standards:

- 2.1 Assessment is a component of the planned change effort in which the mental health practitioner collaborates with the client to obtain information that provides the foundation for developing a plan of intervention (2005, Berg-Weger, M.).
- 2.2 Authorized person is a person approved by the court, or by agreement of the parents and/or the provider, to be present during the supervised contact.
- 2.3 Child refers to a minor, between the ages of birth and majority.
- 2.4 Client is a child or parent or authorized person to whom services are rendered. See also child, custodial parent, and non-custodial parent in this list of definitions.
- 2.5 Critical incident is an occurrence involving a client that threatens the safety or results in the injury of a participant and/or that requires the intervention of a third party such as child protection services or the police.
- 2.6 Custodial parent is a biological or adoptive parent, guardian, or state agency or its representatives that has temporary or permanent physical custody of a child. A custodial parent may also be referred to as a “residential” parent.
- 2.7 Domestic Violence refers to any form of physical, sexual, verbal, emotional, or economic abuse inflicted on any person in a household by a family or household member.
- 2.8 Evaluation is a component of the planned change effort in which the mental health practitioner and the client assess the progress and success of the planned change effort (2005, Berg-Weger, M.).
- 2.9 Group supervision is supervision of parent/child contact in which more than one family is supervised by one or more visit supervisors. Group supervision may also be referred to as “multiple-family” supervision.
- 2.10 Intermittent supervision is parent/child contact in which a parent and child are supervised for part of the time and purposely left unattended by a visit supervisor for certain periods of time.
- 2.11 Neutral/neutrality as used in the context of supervised visitation means maintaining an unbiased, objective, and balanced environment, and

- when providing the service, not taking a position between the parents in providing the service. Providing service in a neutral manner is intended to ensure respect for all individuals in their capacity as parents and to protect children who are attempting to remain in contact with their parents. Being neutral does not mean providers disregard behaviors such as abuse or violence of any kind.
- 2.12 Noncustodial parent refers to a biological parent or other adult who has supervised contact with a child. A noncustodial parent may also be referred to as a “visiting” and/or a “nonresidential” parent.
- 2.13 One-on-one supervision is parent/child contact supervised by at least one visit supervisor focused on overseeing that contact.
- 2.14 Off-site supervision is supervision of parent/child contact that occurs away from a facility that is under the management of the provider.
- 2.15 On-site supervision refers to supervision of parent/child contact at a facility that is under the management of the provider.
- 2.16 Parent refers to a biological mother, father, or other adult, including an adoptive parent, guardian, or state agency or its representatives. See also sections 2.6 and 2.12 in this document.
- 2.17 Parent/child contact is interaction between a parent or other authorized person and one or more children. Contact can be face-to-face, by mail and/or e-mail, telephone, video conference, or other means of communication.
- 2.18 Participant is a client, authorized person, provider, agency staff, or other on-site person.
- 2.19 Partner abuse refers to a form of family violence involving abuse by one adult of another when both share an intimate relationship.
- 2.20 Provider is any professional person or agency, either paid or unpaid, that is experienced in and trained to deliver supervised visitation services.
- 2.21 Recommendation is the drawing of conclusions and statement of a professional opinion concerning future visitation arrangements and/or child custody determination.
- 2.22 Risk Assessment is the review and analysis of historical information and observation of behavior for the purpose of deciding whether there is a match between the probability that a client will exhibit dangerous behavior and the capacity of a provider to manage that behavior. Risk assessment as used in these standards is not a mental health assessment.

- 2.23 Safety is protection from danger or risk of physical, psychological or emotional injury.
- 2.24 Security refers to measures put in place to effect safety.
- 2.25 Supervised exchange is supervision of the transfer of a child from the custodial to the noncustodial parent at the start of the parent/child contact and back to the custodial parent at the end of the contact. The supervision is usually limited to the exchanges, with the remainder of the noncustodial parent/child contact unsupervised. Exchanges may be supervised on-or-off the site. A supervised exchange may also be referred to as “exchange monitoring,” “supervised transfer,” “monitored exchange,” “safe exchange,” and “neutral drop-off/pick-up.”
- 2.26 Supervised visitation is a generic term that describes parent/child contact overseen by a third party. It is also a term for contact between a noncustodial parent and one or more children in the presence of a third person, in which the only focus is the protection and safety of the child and adult participants. Unless otherwise specified in this document, “supervised visitation” also includes supervised exchange services.
- 2.27 Supportive supervised visitation is contact between a noncustodial parent and one or more children in the presence of a third person, in which the supervisor is actively involved in promoting behavioral change in parent/child relationships. Supportive supervision may also be referred to as “directed,” “educational,” or “facilitated visitation.”
- 2.28 Therapeutic supervision is conjoint parent-child therapy conducted by a licensed or certified mental health professional also trained to provide supervised visitation. This includes a student or intern in training for a post-graduate degree under the direct supervision of a licensed or certified mental health professional.
- 2.29 Trainee refers to a person training to become a visit supervisor and working under the direct supervision of a staff member responsible for his or her work. This definition includes interns and practicum students.
- 2.30 Visit supervisor is any person who observes and oversees safe parent/child contact during visits and during transitions from one parent to another. A visit supervisor includes an independent contractor and any employee, trainee, intern, or volunteer of an agency provider. A visit supervisor may also be called a “child access monitor,” “observer,” or “visitation specialist.”

- 6.0 EVALUATIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
- 6.1 Purpose
- 6.2 General Policy
- 6.3 Risk Assessments
- 6.4 Therapeutic Supervised Visitation Exception

6.1 Purpose

This section defines the limits for providing an assessment, evaluation, and/or recommendation concerning the treatment, future visitation arrangements, and/or child custody determinations. Specifically, the section prohibits a provider from performing any mental health, custody, parenting, developmental and/or attachment assessment and evaluation that more appropriately should be provided by a licensed mental health professional. This includes drawing conclusions and/or making recommendations about future visitation arrangements or child custody determinations.

6.2 General Policy

1. A provider must not perform any mental health or other evaluations or assessments unless as specifically noted in sections 6.3 and 6.4 below.
2. Supervised visitation services must function independently from a licensed or certified mental health professional or other professional who is performing a mental health, custody, parenting, developmental and/or attachment assessment and evaluation.
3. A provider must not make recommendations or state opinions about future visitation arrangements and/or child custody determinations.
4. This policy does not prohibit a provider from providing factual information based on observations of clients which may be used by others who are conducting an evaluation and/or assessment.

6.3 Risk Assessments

A provider may review and analyze client information and behavior to determine whether services can be provided safely and/or to deny or suspend services because of potential risks of harm to a client or staff member.

6.4 Therapeutic Supervised Visitation Exception

A licensed mental health professional who is providing therapeutic supervised visitation may prepare a written report that demonstrates a parent's commitment or readiness for treatment and may include a professional opinion about parent/child readiness to enter the next phase of

8.9	Critical Incidents

8.1 Purpose

This section sets forth general safety and security requirements for providers of supervised visitation.

8.2 General Policy for Safety

1. A provider must have written policies and procedures that seek to provide safety for all participants. The central criterion of safety is that there is a match between the capacity of the provider, the service being provided, and the needs of and the risk presented by the family.
2. A provider cannot guarantee safety; adult clients remain responsible and accountable for their own actions.

8.3 Declining Unsafe Cases

A provider must refuse to accept any case when the safety needs and risks presented by the family cannot be managed.

8.4 Client Relationship

The physical safety measures described in this section are not a substitute for maintaining a relationship with each client that will help reduce potential risks of harm. This means treating each client with respect and fairness.

8.5 General Policy for Security

A provider must make reasonable efforts to ensure that security measures are provided. Providers must have written policies and procedures that include, but are not limited to:

1. Intake and case review;

8.8 Staff to Client Ratio

The ratio of supervisor to child must be tailored to each case. In cases requiring supervision of more than one child, a provider must consider having more than one visit supervisor present during visitation (also see section 9.4(1)). Visit supervisor to client ratio will depend on:

1. Level of the supervision necessary for needed safety in each case;
2. Number of children and/or families being supervised;
3. Duration and location of the visit; and
4. Expertise and experience of the supervisor.

8.9 Critical Incidents
