From the President . . .

Season's Greetings

Thomas A. Bishop
AFCC President

As the AFCC moves into its twenty-seventh year we, as members, have cause for pride in the Association's past accomplishments, as well as reasons for optimism as we confront the opportunities to enhance the quality of family dispute resolution processes. At our annual meeting in Chicago we bravely mused about the role of the court in society's future and the part that we, as service providers, might play in tomorrow's judicial process. If any organization may be emboldened to forecast the shape of tomorrow's judicial processes for families, few would challenge the AFCC's legitimate leadership role in pointing the way. As members we can be proud of having convened symposia to develop standards of practice for divorce mediation and more recently for having met to explore the appropriateness of mediation for families with a history of domestic violence. Coming from a consortium of judges, lawyers, mediators, mental health professionals and academics, the Association's recently adopted policy on the relevance of AIDS to parent/child access disputes should be uniquely helpful to decision makers faced with this issue.

In order to most effectively respond to the need for conferences which are relevant to local and regional concerns, the Association has recently embarked on a program of regionalization. In the past twelve months we hosted, or co-hosted eight such meetings—each one, by all accounts both enjoyable and stimulating. As reported elsewhere in the Newsletter, six regional conferences are scheduled for the next twelve months in addition to our annual conference to be held in Winnipeg, Manitoba, next May.

The Association's vitality reflects the energies of its members. To continue our special role in the dispute resolution community, the Association needs your continuing support—your participation at annual and regional meetings and your active involvement in the internal affairs of the Association. If you are not on a committee, join the one of your choice. If you have ideas for a committee you are already on, communicate your thoughts to its chairperson. As we move through this year I hope to see many of you at our conferences and to hear your ideas for the Association's direction and growth as it strives to serve the families of our communities.

How About An AFCC Gift Membership?

Have you considered giving your favorite judge a gift membership in AFCC? Or one of the partners in your law firm? Or a colleague who has done something special for you?

Well now you can. Gift memberships may be purchased now for only $50, a savings of $20 off the annual membership fee. Gift memberships will provide the full year of membership benefits including the Family and Conciliation Courts Review, Newsletter and conference mailings. The new member will receive a special enclosure advising them of your gift.

Gift memberships must be pre-paid. Include your name and address and the name, address and phone number of recipient. We’ll take care of the rest.

With the holidays approaching, why not give an AFCC membership?

AFCC Journal Has New Look

AFCC's journal has taken on a new look and a new name! Formerly the Conciliation Courts Review, the journal has been re-named the Family and Conciliation Courts Review and the cover has been re-designed. Review Co-editors, Stanley Cohen and Hugh McIsaac, will be publishing two theme issues this coming year. The December, 1989 issue will be devoted to joint custody, featuring three articles entered in the Meyer Elkin Essay Contest. Justice Sylvia Cartwright's seminal article on the Maori conceptualization of family will also be included. The June, 1990 issue will be devoted to international articles from China, Denmark, England, Israel, West Germany and other countries. Future issues of the Review will feature domestic violence, family economics, and fundamental questions of equity and social responsibility.

AFCC members receive a subscription to the Review as a part of the annual membership fee. Single issue subscriptions may be purchased from AFCC for $12.50 (US only) or $17.50 (Foreign). Renewing your membership will insure that you do not miss an issue and that you will continue to enjoy these challenging articles.

It's THE Place To Be . . .

WINNIPEG

Winnipeg's location in the center of Canada offers easy access from all points. A short one hour flight from the hub city of Minneapolis or three hours from each coast, Winnipeg's clean air and moderate temperatures make it an ideal setting for our conference activities. Overlooked by many as a travel destination, this conference will provide an opportunity to visit Manitoba and explore the beauty of this vast province. Winnipeg, a diverse ethnic community, includes Jewish, Ukrainian and French communities. Visitors will enjoy Winnipeg's fine dining, world class ballet, gorgeous prairie sunsets and . . . Winnipeg cheesecake! Conference brochures will be mailed in early 1990. Don't forget to make your travel plans through Conventions In America. For further conference information contact Lorraine Martin, Family Conciliation, 405 Broadway Ave, Winnipeg, Manitoba Canada R3C 2L6 (204) 945-7236.

Post-conference Trip to York, England

AFCC members, family and friends can round off the trip to Winnipeg, Canada the 1990 annual meeting by joining the post-conference trip to York, England to participate in the conference of the Standing Committee for Interdisciplinary Cooperation in Family Proceedings June 11-13, 1990. York is two hours by rail from London and Edinburgh and is the home of the “Yorvik Exhibition,” a striking representation of life in York during the Viking era. Conference participants will be staying at the Novotel Hotel, near the center of the old walled city and close to many other attractions. A conference dinner is scheduled for the Merchant Tailors’ Hall, the ancient Guild Hall of the city.

Members may depart the Winnipeg conference and tour England, Wales and Ireland before the York conference or may join a charter flight departing from the East coast immediately preceding the York conference. Tim Sallus, Director Family Court Services, will be leading the tour. Over a dozen AFCC members have already signed up for further information! Contact Tim Sallus, 28 Grand St., Hartford, CT 06106 (203) 566-8187.

NORTHEAST

The Boston Tremont House Hotel (formerly the Bradford Hotel and the Downtown Quality Inn) will be the site of the Northeast regional meeting December 6-8, 1990. "Changing Times and Changing Families—Changing Courts?" will be the conference theme. Plenary sessions will include "Changing Families," presented by Dr. Jeffrey Rubenstein, Executive Director of the Harvard Negotiation Project and author of When Families Fight; "How Courts and Mediators Must Change" presented by Hon. Edward Ginzberg, Linda Girdner and Michael Lang and "Gender Bias Issues in the Judicial Process," a summary of the Massachusetts Task Force on Gender Bias. Workshop sessions include Unmarried With Children, Parent-Child Mediation, Federal Program Standards in Child Support Enforcement, Cultural Issues in Custody/Visitation Disputes and Troubled Parents; Troubled Children. Further information may be obtained from Tim Sallus 28 Grand St., Hartford, CT 06106 (203) 566-8178 or Aza Butler, 801 Dairy Rd. Parkton, MD 21120 (301) 583-5678.

NORTHWEST

"The Challenge of Interdisciplinary Partnerships" will be the theme of the Northwest Regional Conference at the Hilton Hotel in Portland, OR Feb 22-24, 1990. Featured topics include Domestic Violence, Alternate Dispute Resolution, Psychological Parent, Interdisciplinary Ethics, Parent Training, Mediation, Custody Evaluations, Visitation and Impairment of the Primary Parent. Contact: Jim Dudley or Gary Burda, Family Services, Multnomah County Courthouse, 1021 SW 4th Ave. #500, Portland, OR 97204 (503) 224-3189 or Marjory Hellman, King County Courthouse, Third & James W364, Seattle, WA 98104 (206) 583-4690.

SOUTHWEST

AFCC's California Chapter and the California Association of Matrimonial Lawyers will be co-sponsoring the Southwest Regional Conference January 28-29, 1990 at the Sonoma Mission Inn & Spa. "Conflict and Peacemaking: A Multidisciplinary Approach in Family Law" will look at conflict and peacemaking from the perspective of global-international, interpersonal-interactive and intrapersonal. Presenters will include Robert McWhinney and "Reflections on the Nature of Human Conflict," a multimedia presentation on conflict in ourselves and the world and Harold Sandier, author of Breakthrough: Emerging New Thinking, a Soviet and Western challenge to live with diversity. Workshops will include "Making Decisions About Custody: Unexamined Bias or Informed Opinions?"; "Getting the Whole Picture: A Person is a Fragment of the Family"; "I Never Promised You a Rose Garden: The Dependent Client and the Professional"; and "Co-depending As a Way of Understanding Helping Relationships." For further information contact Mary Duryea, Family Court Services, 1221 Oak Street, Oakland, CA 94602 (415) 272-6030.

SOUTHCENTRAL

The first Southcentral Regional Conference and mid-year AFCC Board meeting was held October 19-21, 1989 in Dallas, TX. The conference featured Chief Justice Thomas Phillips of the Texas Supreme Court. Chief Justice Phillips spoke on the role of the judge in divorce proceedings. Other plenary presenters included Robert Stewart, Timphaven Psychiatric Hospital, "Healthy Family: Myth or Reality" and William Hodges, Ph.D. "Joint Custody: Problem or Solution." Plans are underway for a Southcentral Regional Conference to be held in Boulder, CO in November, 1990. Contact Symeone Glusktein for further information (303) 790-7227.

NORTHCENTRAL

The Northcentral Regional Conference and AFCC Executive and Committee Meetings will be held September 27-29, 1990 at the Kansas City Marriott Hotel. Further information may be obtained from Carol Roeder-Esser (913) 891-2550.

SOUTHEAST

A Southeast Regional Conference is being planned for Charleston, SC. Tentative dates are Fall 1990. Contact Attorney Cotton Harness or Julie Harness (903) 884-6473.

Regional meetings are not limited to members of the geographic area. Each region welcomes the participation of all AFCC members and others interested in this field.
State Supreme Courts Appoint ADR Committees

The State Supreme Courts in Arizona, Florida, Kansas and Virginia have created special committees to study and promote the use of alternative dispute resolution procedures. Several of these committees have completed their work and have issued reports that encourage the expanded use of alternative dispute resolution procedures to “reduce hostility between disputants, to gain acceptance of the outcome and to restore a sense of control to the parties.”

The Supreme Court of Arizona received a $150,000 grant from the State Justice Institute to develop a Commission on the Courts including a task group to study dispute resolution and children and families in the courts. AFCC members Clarence Cramer, Hon. Robert Gottsfeld, Harry Kaminsky, Guy Parent, and Hon. Edward Voss, III were among the members of the Commission and task force members appointed by Chief Justice Frank X. Gordon.

Florida Chief Justice ErHlich has created a standing committee of the Supreme Court on Mediation and Arbitration Rules. The committee will be studying and evaluating the need for standards of conduct for mediators and arbitrators and will recommend standards to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court has implemented mediation training standards and has certified 32 training programs since 1988. AFCC Committee members include James Affini, Mary Cadwell and Allene Hubert.

Chief Justice Robert Miller appointed AFCC Board member Hon. Herbert Walton as chair of the Kansas Supreme Court Committee on Alternative Dispute Resolution. Other AFCC committee members included Hon. James Beasely, Nancy Hughes, Gary Ketchmer, Hon. Joe Pilier, and David Woodbury. The committee has prepared a comprehensive report on the use of ADR procedures in Kansas and has suggested guidelines for the qualifications of mediators to whom a court makes referrals.

The Commission on the future of Virginia’s Judicial System, appointed by Chief Justice Harry Carrico, concluded that the judicial system must provide an array of dispute resolution alternatives that respond to the changing needs of society. It was concluded that alternative dispute resolution methods should be developed both within the court system and by community-based providers.

AFCC salutes these states and others that have taken an active role in furthering the principles of the Association of Family and Conciliation Courts: the constructive resolution of family conflict.

Maricopa Court Celebrates 25 Years

The Conciliation Court of Maricopa County, AZ celebrated its 25th anniversary with an open house in its Phoenix office. Established in October, 1964, the counselors of this department of the Superior Court have provided 67,000 couples with marital counseling, pre-marital services, mediation and custody evaluations. The Conciliation Court idea emanated from concerns about the increasing divorce rate in Arizona. Resulting legislation was designed to offer an opportunity for reconciliation of troubled marriages. Presiding Judges have included Hon. Laurens Henderson, Hon. Irwin Canfor, Hon. Robert Gottsfeld, Hon. Sylvan Brown, Hon. Edward Voss and current Presiding Judge Hon. Stephen Gerst. AFCC President-elect Russell Schoeneman has served as Judge since the 1982 retirement of founding Director Dr. William Shields. The department employs 25 counselors, interns and support staff and served over 4,500 couples in 1988.

Preventing Abduction Through Mediation

Child Find, a non-profit organization to assist with the location of abducted children, received a $35,000 grant from the National Institute for Dispute Resolution (NIDR) to prevent parental abduction through mediation. AFCC member Patrick Phear will be providing consulting and training to Child Find’s new program and volunteers.

Resolving disputes in a peaceful manner is a paramount obligation of government to its people. To offer the most effective, responsive and appropriate methods for resolving disputes, our justice system must be able to offer alternative dispute resolution programs along with adjudication. Delay, cost of litigation, complexity of the court process, insensitivity to litigants and lack of access weaken the current court system. Because disputes offer widely differing needs a continuing search is required for the most appropriate means of resolving all cases. In the future the court system should offer a range of options for resolving disputes. Adjudication and other dispute resolution methods would continue to be available. Such a system would represent a departure from the traditional adversary system by offering disputants the chance to choose the best method for resolving their differences. That method may lie anywhere along a continuum from traditional adjudication at one end, with a third-party decision maker, to conciliation, at the other end, where the parties alone reach a decision. In fashioning non-traditional dispute resolution alternatives, either within the courts or in private enterprise, means must be developed that offer an opportunity to deal with the causes of the underlying issues in a dispute. New approaches must find ways to reduce hostility between disputants, to gain acceptance of the outcome and to restore a sense of control to the parties. Embodying these fundamentals, concepts in all resolution mechanisms will achieve a greater sense of justice in the individual case.

ABA Family Dispute Resolution Conference

AFCC will be cooperating with the ABA Standing Committee on Dispute Resolution to sponsor the Third National Family Dispute Resolution Conference Options For All Ages. The Conference will be held March 21-23, 1990 in Miami Beach, Florida at the Clarion Castle Resort Hotel. The conference will include workshops on issues affecting older Americans, juveniles and youth, court-based mediation programs and private practice. ABA President L. Stanley Chavkin and Judge Gladys Kessller will be two of the many featured speakers. Further information is available from Ray Gravelly or Frederick E. Woods (202) 331-2258 or by writing the ABA Standing Committee on Dispute Resolution, 1800 M Street N.W., Ste. 200, Washington, DC 20036.

1990 Meyer Elkin Essay Award

The second annual Meyer Elkin Essay Award will be presented at AFCC’s annual meeting in Winnipeg, Canada. The topics are “The Need for Interdisciplinary Cooperation” and “The Relationship Between Financial (Distributive) and Relationship (Integrative) Issues in Divorce.” Papers should follow the style of those in the Family and Conciliation Courts Review and can be submitted by March 1, 1990 to Review co-editor Hugh McIsaac, Director Conciliation Court, Rm. 241, 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

AFM Call for Proposals

The Academy of Family Mediators has issued a call for proposals for presentation at the annual meeting July 22-28, 1990 at the Sherraton Tara Hotel and Resort in Danvers, MA. Presentations are requested on topics of Gaining the Acceptance of Mediation; Increasing Knowledge and Skills; Evaluation of the Effectiveness of Mediation; The Enhanced Field of Family Mediation; Mediation and the Divorcing Family; The Magic of Mediation and Nurturing the Family of Mediators. Proposals must be postmarked by Dec. 15th. For further information contact the Academy’s office at (503) 345-1205.
Member News

Hon. James B. Beasley, 18th Judicial District, Wichita, Kansas received the Chief Justice Warren Burger Award for "Heroes" presented by the National Council on Children's Rights at their recent annual conference in Washington, DC. Judge Beasley is a member of AFCC's Kansas chapter.

Mike Bridenback, Director of the Florida Dispute Resolution Center was appointed to serve on a National Task Force on Community Mediation sponsored by the National institute for Dispute Resolution (NIDR). Mr. Bridenback also participated in a meeting of Directors of statewide mediation programs hosted by NIDR, the National Center of State Courts and the California Office of the Courts. He was joined by Tim Salius, Director Connecticut Family Service Division and Isolino Ricci, Statewide Coordinator, Family Court Services. The meeting was facilitated by Margaret Shaw, Director Institute for Judicial Administration.

Frona C. Daskal, J.D. was recently appointed director of the Divorce Mediation Service of the Parkside Pastoral Counseling Center. She replaces Carl Schneider, Ph.D. who has moved to Atlanta, Georgia to direct the Grady Hospice Program. The Parkside Center offers mediation services in Park Ridge and downtown Chicago.

Hon. Leonard Edwards, San Diego City Superior Court, San Jose, CA received the 1999 Livingston Hall Juvenile Justice Award. Judge Edwards is chairperson of AFCC's juvenile Committees.

Hon. Lawrence Kaplan, AFCF Immediate Past-President and judge in the Family Division of the Allegheny Common Pleas Court, Pittsburgh, PA has been selected as a co-editor of a forthcoming issue of the American Bar Association publication, Family Advocacy.

Tim Salius, Director Court Services, Family Division, Connecticut Superior Court was a featured speaker at the annual Minnesota State Judicial Conference. Mr. Salius spoke on family violence.

Special Note: Hurricane Hugo, the California earthquake and East coast and Alabama tornados have caused serious damage and problems for many families across the country. AFCF members in South Carolina suffered some yard damage but have resumed daily activities. Although we have not been able to personally check with all of our members in the San Francisco-Oakland area, it appears that almost all of our members survived the recent earthquake. The courthouse and offices of court services in San Francisco, Santa Clara and Oakland were damaged by the quake but have resumed service. Santa Clara offices have been relocated to a new building. The building housing the Administrative Office of the Courts was seriously damaged and it is doubtful if these offices will be able to be restored. Isolino Ricci, AOC Statewide Coordinator, lost her home to the earthquake. Our thoughts are with you and your families.

Texas Prescribes Visitation Schedule

The Texas Legislature enacted into law a set of guidelines for the Court to use to determine a "possessor conservator's" (not a residential parent) time with a child. The standard possession (visitation) order for parents with children over the age of three who live within 100 miles of each other provides for Wednesdays evenings from 6-8 pm; the 1st, 3rd and 5th weekends of the month from 6 pm Friday to 6 pm Sunday; even years from the first day of the Christmas school holiday until noon Dec. 26; odd years from noon Dec. 26 until 6 pm the day before school resumes; odd years from 6 pm the evening before Thanksgiving to 6 pm the following Sunday; even years from 6 pm on the last day of school preceding Spring vacation until 6 pm on the evening before school resumes; each parent to have the children from 9 am until 6 pm on the respective Father's and Mother's Days; from 6-8 pm on the day of the child's birthday providing that parent provides transportation; with written notice by May 1 of each year the possessor parent may have the children 30 days between June 1-August 31, no more than 2 separate periods of at least 7 consecutive days or if no notice is provided by May 1, 30 consecutive days from 6 pm July 1 until 6 pm July 31; with written notice by May 15 of each year the "managing conservator" (residential parent) may pick up the children 6 pm on Friday and return them at 6 pm on Sunday for any one period of time during this summer period while the children are with the possessor conservator. This schedule may be modified upon agreement of the parties or by the Court because of "age, circumstances, needs and best interests of the child" or "circumstances of the managing conservator and of the possessory conservator."
PAMPHLETS

Parents Are Forever: Internationally acclaimed pamphlet used by family courts, lawyers, counselors and mediators to help families in the divorce process. Pamphlet addresses custody and visitation issues and helps parents use the divorce experience as an opportunity for growth.

Guide For Stepparents: Little has been written to help the numbers of parents who remarry after a divorce. The guidelines offered in this pamphlet can help resolve some of the questions and concerns of the blended family.
